

How Polymer Science can help the Flavour & Fragrance Business at Firmenich.

Damien BERTHIER
Firmenich, Geneva, SWITZERLAND

Firmenich is a major and independent actor of the Flavour and Fragrance industry since 1895 in Geneva. To support our Business Divisions, the Research Division and more particularly the Materials Science Department develop innovative delivery systems at different scales from the molecular one with polymers and conjugates to the macroscopic one with granules or core-shell capsules. The activities of my team are dedicated to the preparation and the use of polymer materials to develop innovative chemical and physical delivery systems.
